

CLIMATE CHANGE AND YOU

Giacovelli's First English Writing Competition - Winners get published!

Giacovelli International Editions is excited to announce its first writing contest. We invite writers of all ages and backgrounds to participate in this thought-provoking contest, offering you the opportunity to engage in the creation of an unpublished story and see it published for free in a dedicated book.

REQUIREMENTS AND CONDITIONS

The competition is open and free to individuals who have reached the age of eighteen or above by the submission deadline. Entrants are permitted to participate with a single unpublished work. By submitting your work, you affirm that you hold the copyright to the submitted piece, and you grant Giacovelli International Editions the right to publish your work in the dedicated book.

THEME

"How has climate change impacted your life on a scale of hotter summers to hurricanes?"

Climate change, a pervasive force shaping our world, has woven itself into the fabric of our lives. This theme invites writers to reflect on personal experiences, witnessing the tangible and intangible impacts of climate change. From the silent agony of prolonged droughts, casting arid shadows over once-thriving landscapes, to the visceral chaos unleashed by natural disasters, entrants are encouraged to weave narratives that resonate with authenticity. Writers are challenged to illuminate the intricate ways in which climate change has touched their lives.

SUBMISSION AND DEADLINE

Entries should be submitted electronically via the form available. Include your full name, contact information, and a brief bio along with your submission.

Deadline 30 settembre 2024.

PRIZES

Stories will be evaluated by a jury appointed by the publishing house. Giacovelli International Editions has the right to change the composition of the jury at any time without having to communicate to the participants. The jury will assess the stories based on creativity, narrative style, and the development of the proposed theme. A ranking will then be compiled.

The winner will be awarded by Giacovelli International Editions with the publication, signed in the name of the author, of a book exclusively dedicated. The winner will be gifted a copy of the same publication.

By participating in the contest, the author assigns all rights to the submitted work to Giacovelli International Editions, which may publish it, even subsequently. Each author cannot claim any rights to the published works, and all subsequent and possible uses of the published stories must be authorized by Giacovelli International Editions.

Participation in the contest implies full acceptance of this regulation. Authors will be directly responsible for any plagiarism or false statements. The organization reserves the right to provide further information if necessary.
